WASHINGTON CITY.

FRIDAY, August 31.

Extract of a letter from Cadiz, dated July 12, 1804.

"The crops of grain in this country have been the most miserable ever experienced, and it is in want of immense supplies of wheat, flour and rice. I hope that the American merchants will avail of this favorable juncture to forward to this country the supplies we are so much in want of. Letters from Naples of the 2d ult. mention that the crop in Sicily was so very short, that the exportation was prohibited; the want of supplies from that quarter will be severely felt in this country."

DIED,

On the 28th inst. Mr. FRANCIS M'CLURE, (Printer) after a short but severe illness. His remains were interred yesterday in the public burial ground East of the city.

The procession was formed, and left the House of Mr. Orlando Cook, in the following order.

1. Masonic Society, preceded by a band of music.
2. Rev. Mr. M'Cormick.
3. The CORPS in a carriage.
4. The Washington Typographical Society, as mourners.
5. Capt. SPRIGG's Light Infantry Company with drums and fifes.
6. Citizens.

On their arrival at the place of interment, Masonic and military rights were performed.

NEW-YORK, August 23.

The repeated aggressions on our commerce are continued in the usual manner, by the British ships at the Hook. Yesterday morning about six o'clock, we are informed, the ship Rebecca of this port, after a voyage of two years, was fired at and brought to by the Cambrian frigate, and six men impressed from her not more than 2 leagues from the Hook, and the ship detained about two hours.

At about 11, A. M. a schooner hove in sight close under the highlands. The Cambrian made a signal to the Leander which was answered, they both hauled their wind and stood for her. The former fired at her twice, and then stood off to another schooner (or brig) which appeared in the offing. The Leander continued in pursuit, and fired three guns, when the schr. came to anchor. At this time a squall arose which obliged her to stand off, and the schr. weighed anchor and got safe into the hook. What was the fate of the other vessel we are not able to state. It is said as that as many as sixty of the Leanders people are sick. The ships stand off and on all night, and take their stations in the mouth of the harbour every morning, for the purpose of overhauling every vessel bound in and out.

It is worthy of remark that the Cambrian is the Commodore's ship, and capt. Skene is of course, under the immediate orders of capt. Bradley, the same gentleman who some time since ordered the impressment of the Pitt's people at the quarantined.

We are informed that letters have been received from capt. ——, of the Swift, of this port, which sailed a short time since from Amboy for Amsterdam.

The letter states that she was boarded by the British ship Leander, the capt. of which indorsed her register, ordering her from Amsterdam, as that port is in a state of blockade. She has accordingly changed her destination to Embden.

August 25.

The schr. Emmeline, capt. Moran, from Bourdeaux was boarded on Thursday by an officer from the British ship of war Leander, and Valentine Gibbs, a native of Washington, N. C. impressed therefrom. Gibb's protection had accidentally and unfortunately been left at Bordeaux; as he has however a sister residing in this city, immediate measures will, it is presumed, be adopted to identify his citizenship, and obtain a speedy releasement.

New-York, August 27.

It is reported that Col. Smith, the President of the New-York State Society of Cincinnati, has received an answer to a letter addressed by said Society to Gen. Charles Cotesworth Pickney, the Vice-President General of the Society. Mr. Pinckney, it is said, condemns in the strongest manner the practice of duelling, and proposes that the society at a general meeting, or at their different state meetings, should enter into a resolution neither to give nor to except a challenge. Such a letter coming from a gentleman of high character, and of great bravery, is very important. The letter ought not to be withheld from the public.

BOSTON, August 21.

Brig Camillus, Captain Kennard, in fifty two days from Guadaloupe, informs that he sailed on the 16th of January, & on the 24th, at midnight, was brought too by his majesty's armed schooner Le Clare, Lieut Sutton, who ordered capt. K. to get out his boat and come on board & make haste, or he would be fired upon. Capt. K. answered that his boat was very leaky; but was answered that he must come in her and bring all his papers. When capt. K. got on board he was deprived of his papers, and a prize master and crew were sent on board his brig. The next day the captain was returned on board his vessel, the mate and seamen taken out, and the brig ordered for Tortola, because she had freight on board, On board of the cruizer the crew of the Camillus were asked by lieut. Sutton whether they would fight, if he fell in with a French privateer. They replied they were Americans and prisoners, and would not fight under a foreign flag. The lieut. ordered one of the men to do duty, objected whereupon he was ordered to the gangway, stripped and the boatswain was desired to give 3 dozen and to start the skin. This cruel and infamous punishment was inflicted with shocking severity!!! After keeping the Camillus in charge three days, finding they could not fetch Tortola, she was given up, and the crew put on board. Particular care was requisite for several days to recover the poor fellow who had been so BARBAROUSLY TREATED!!! His name is Thomas Carpenter, and he was born at Falmouth, [Maine.]

Patent Machine,

For hulling Clover Seed, bearding Barley, and taking the white cap from Wheat.

The encouragement which the subscriber received last season from a numberof respectable farmers, for the invention of the above machine, has induced him to spare no labor or pains in its further improvement; in those endeavours he has so far succeded as to render it superior, it is presumed, to any machine ever before applied; as a proof of this assertion, the following instance of expedition can be attested to as a real truth, by several disinterested reputable persons, viz.—Three men employed at it, have hulled in one half hour, a bushel of clover seed.

We may now make what deductions we please for the clover being well filled, for its being previously well cleared of straw, and for extra exertions, to know the extent of what the machine was capable of performing; and after those deductions it will be granted, that five bushels per day must be a very moderate average; and yet this quantity is sufficient to give general satisfaction—It will however be found more commonly to exceed than fall short of this last quantity. The machine occupies about the same room as the Corn Fan, and is equally portable; its frictional parts are few, and those composed of durable materials; in short, it is acknowledged, by those who have had experience of its utility, to be an interesting & almost indispensable implement of husbandry.

A number of them may be seen at the subscriber's shop in Frankfort, five miles from Philadelphia, in preparation for the ensuing season, where they are sold at 30 dollars. Persons who apply for permits to make them must produce recommendations of good character, and be professional machinists; such only will meet with encouragement.

Persons inclined to purchase the Machine for their private use, will please to observe, that no one is authorised to make and sell them, but such as are furnished with engraved plate certificates, attested by the subscriber, one of which certificates is to accompany each machine, and will be the purchaser's voucher to use it.

ANCHOR TAVERN,

AND OYSTER HOUSE.

G. PITT, impressed with every sense of duty, he owes to his friends and self; craves their attention to the following remarks.

1st. The duty to his friends is by keeping every necessary accommodation suitable for a tavern, such as good beds, wholesome diet; the choicest of liquors; and the best of attendance.

2d. The duty to himself is to take care of No. 1, to see that no body pays twice, as once is sufficient, to collect every dollar he can that is owing to him, and trust no more; for trusting is the ruin of many an honest man; and will be, if he goes on, the ruin of him.

As therefore the Oyster Season is nearly approaching, and cash with him very scarce, he earnestly entreats those who stand indebted to him, prior and subsequent to his opening the above tavern will pay their respective balances on or before the 15th day of September next, which will enable him to render that reception different to the last season, and treat them in that elegant and accommodating style which it is his pride to support, and his ardent wish to maintain.

PROPOSAL,

For printing by Subscription,

Miscellaneous Poems,

BY MRS. ALLEN,

Consort to the Rev. Mr. Allen of Harford county,

Written before her marriage.

—CONDITIONS—

THE book to be printed with a clear type, and fine paper, in a duodecimo volume, and delivered to the subscribers neatly bound, price Three quarters of a Dollar, half to be paid on subscribing, and the residue on delivery of the book—which will be put to press as soon as three hundred copies shall be subscribed for.

Subscriptions received by Mr. Matthew Carey, Philadelphia—by Messrs. Warner and Hanna, Baltimore, and by the principal booksellers in those cities, also by Mr. Samuel Harrison Smith, Washington city.

Dr. Jacob Hall, of Harford county, of known literary character, to whose inspection these Poems were submitted, in a letter to the author, expresses his opinion of them, as follows:

MADAM,

I have been honored and gratified with the perusal of your manuscript copy of Poems. In my opinion it is a work of considerable merit, and displays true piety and poetic genius. The pastoral dialogues are commendable for their novelty, simplicity and beauty. The elegies, epistles, and especially the "Man of Misfortune," a Moral Tale, are interesting and pathetic. The Odes and Fugitive Pieces are sprightly and amusing—And the whole composition seems to breathe such a spirit of philanthropy and benevolence as cannot fail to elevate the affections, and to mend the heart—And it is to be regretted, that the author's modesty has hitherto denied the community so refined & elegant an entertainment.

Your Friend, &c.

J. HALL.

Christopher's Camp, March 24.

500 Dollars Reward.

Forty dollars with all reasonable expences will be paid for lodging said negroes in any jail and giving notice by letter to me at Chester C. H. South Carolina, so that I may get them, or twenty dollars for each; that is, if they are taken by any person after this date—any jailor or other persons giving notice to me of said negroes, that they are lodged in any jail before this date shall be very handsomely rewarded.

STROTHER is 22 or 23 years of age, little yellow complexioned, 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, stout made, crooked legged, very large feet, has a sour countenance, has large scars on his back occasioned by a severe whipping, by his former overseer in Virginia for rebelling against him.

PHILLIS is 20 or 22 years old of a middle size, trim made, black complexion, has a small lisp when she speaks—Said negroes formerly belonged to Mr. Edward Carter, in Prince William county, state of Virginia, where it is supposed (if they have eloped of themselves) they will try to go.
