The last ruddy beam of the summer sun departs Lightly boys lightly we dip our slender oars And off goes our boat with a freight of happy hearts.

dip our slender oars And off goes our boat with a freight of happy hearts.

Then cheerily sing, Oht mer-ri-ly row, mer-ri-ly row, and on we go;

Then cheerily sing, Oht mer-ri-ly row, mer-ri-ly row, and on we go;

Second time. Repeat pp ff Second ending.

Cheerily sing, Oht merrily row, merrily row, and on we go. go.

Cheerily sing, Oht merrily row, merrily row, and on we go. go.

Fleetly, boys, fleetly the hours and minutes end,
 And so must the joys and pleasures of the day;
 Sweetly, boys, sweetly then let our voices blend,
 As on o'er the deep we gaily pull away.
 The waves sparkle, &c.
