
General John J. Pershing visits the grave of Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt, at Chammery, on his last tour of the battlefields of France before sailing on the Leviathan for America. Keystone View

General John J. Pershing studies the map of the former British sector on his last visit to Albert. To the left—The American commander in chief chats with a wee mademoiselle on the road at Soissons. Keystone View

From harness maker to president. A new and informal photo of Friedrich Ebert, President of the new German republic, and Mrs. Ebert. His motto has always been, "The will of the people shall be the highest law." Ebert signed the bill that ratified the peace treaty. International

A half dozen almond-eyed youngsters of the Chinese Y. M. C. A. in San Francisco form their own little group of serious thinkers and ponder over the possibilities of the next move in an important chess game. Keystone View

This seventeen-year-old beauty is Miss Kathleen Martyn, an English actress, who is the official mascot of the Royal Air Force. Rumor has it that she is soon to be seen on the New York stage in the leading part of a new production. © E. O. Hoppe, from Ledger Service

A splendid view of the U. S. Vickers naval 3-pounder on an American armored train manned by a crew of Yanks in Russia—one of several similar outfits that inflicted terrific damage on the Bolsheviki. Underwood

A new photo of Gaby Deslys, the famous dancer and erstwhile friend of both former King Manuel of Portugal and King Alfonso of Spain, at a French watering place. Gaby left Broadway more than three years ago promising to return when she found a good play and a sympathetic manager Guggenheim