He purchased with Jedidiah Prescott Jr. the township of Vienna, Maine, from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. He was active in obtaining settlers for the town, and for this purpose disposed of a large amount of land at a nominal value. He divided amongst his sons a large tract of land lying in the north part of the town, where they resided (with the exception of Thomas who removed to Belfast) during the remainder of their lives. A portion of the land is at present in the possession of his descendants. He died at Readfield, Apr. 7. 1798. his widow died at Vienna, Apr. 2. 1814.

Being possessed of a well balanced mind, and superior judgment his council was often sought by his fellow townsmen. He was well known for the rectitude of his character, and this with his christian benevolence, won for him the admiration of all who knew him. He died as he lived, strong in the faith he had maintained.
