At the last session of Congress a law was passed to alter the Summer Term of the court of Washington county in the district of Columbia, from the Fourth Monday of July to the First Monday in June; on which last mentioned day the Circuit Court for said county will sit.

An arrival at Norfolk brings London articles to the 27th of February; but they are not of sufficient moment to interfere with our detail of Congressional proceedings.

Votes for Governor of Massachusetts. In 424 towns, [says the Boston Chronicle,] the votes as corrected, stand thus: Sullivan 35,934—Strong 36,912. Last year the same towns gave 32,179 and 34,214.

New-York, April 26.

Last evening, the sloop Richard, from Brandywine, was fired at by the Leander, and whilst laying to, a ball struck John Pierce, (brother to the captain) in the neck, as he was standing at the helm, and killed instantly. Two shots were fired at the sloop, the first went about 10 yards off.

The ship Aurora, Fairchild, from the Havanna, belonging to Samuel Russel, was captured off the Hook yesterday, by one of the blockading squadron, after having a pilot on board, and ordered for Halifax.

The brig Ceres, from the West Indies, was captured yesterday off the Hook by the above blockading squadron, and ordered for Halifax.

The three masted schooner Nimrod, Manning, from Curracoa for New-York, was captured yesterday morning, off Sandy Hook, by the British ship of war Leander, and ordered for Halifax.

Head Quarters, Georgia.
Louisville, 8th April, 1806.

The commander in chief, with deep regret, has to announce the death of Major General JAMES JACKSON, who commanded the first division of militia, and was one of the Senators, of this state, in the Congress of the United States.

This unfortunate intelligence was conveyed to him on the 7th instant by a letter, dated the 17th of last month, from the general's colleague, the honorable Abraham Baldwin, in the following words:

"The distressing task, which my letters have so long led you to expect, is at length enforced upon me, of announcing to you the death of my beloved and much respected colleague, General Jackson. I have been with him all night, and closed his eyes just at the dawning of the day.

"It is now more than twenty years since we have been intimately associated in the duties of public life. A part of the duty which I feel to be left to me is, to declare, that in sterling integrity, and honest devotion to public good I have never found his superior."

Death has bereaved the state of a general and a statesman, who was no less valiant in the field, than eminent in the cabinet. During our revolutionary war in the days of peril, he exerted his utmost powers in defence of his country's rights, and performed acts of heroism—and in her councils both at home and abroad he advanced and supported the interest of the state with stern integrity, undaunted perseverance, perspicuity of mind and flow of eloquence. So great were his public virtues that, from an early part of his life, he held the first and most distinguished appointments, both civil and military, in the gift of his state.

To attest the loss Georgia has sustained by the death of her beloved general, and patriotic and able statesman, who yielded up his last breath from home and in the service of his country, and to manifest the estimation in which his worth and services are held by a grateful people, the commander in chief

ORDERS,

All officers in military commission belonging to this state, and requests the civil officers thereof, and the citizens in general, to wear crape round the left arm for the space of six weeks, to commence on the 1st day of May next.

By order of the commander in chief,
GEORGE R. CLAYTON.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RANAWAY from the subscriber, living in Calvert county, Maryland, a negro man named TOM or TOM MONK. He is a blacksmith by trade, 26 years old, about 5 feet 10 inches high, of a slender make, yellow complexion, and slightly pitted with the small pox. He has a variety of clothes, among which are a long coat of brown cloth, and pantaloons of the same, with a short spatted coat. It is highly probable he has made for Baltimore, or the city of Washington, from Annapolis, as he was seen in the latter place a few days since. Whoever takes up the said fellow and secures him, so that I get him again, shall have the above reward, and all reasonable charges will be paid if brought home. All masters of vessels and other persons are forewarned harboring, employing or carrying said fellow away at their peril.

EDWARD GANTT, junr.

CHASE'S TRIAL.

This day is Published

By SAMUEL H. SMITH.
SAMUEL CHASE,

AN ASSOCIATE JUSTICE of the Supreme Court of the United States,

IMPEACHED

By the House of Representatives, for HIGH CRIMES AND MISDEMEANORS, before the Senate of the United States.

Taken in short hand,
By SAMUEL H. SMITH & THOMAS LLOYD.

In Two large Octavo Volumes—in Boards, price—to subscribers four dollars and a half—and to non subscribers five dollars.

A much greater delay has been incurred in the publication of this trial than the Editor contemplated. He has, however, the satisfaction of saying that no effort has been omitted by him to give it to the public at an earlier period. The delay has arisen from the revision of the speeches of the Managers and Counsel. The publication might long since have been made in a less perfect dress; but it was deemed highly desirable that in a case, which, independently of its own importance, might be a precedent in future times, to sacrifice time rather than precision. The work now appears before the public with the expectation of the Editor that it will be considered as meriting the character of an impartial, comprehensive and faithful statement of facts, all the speeches have been revised, and inserted at length, in connection with whatever else formed a part of the trial.

Editors of other prints will confer a benefit by inserting this advertisement a few times in their papers.
