Do You Recollect the Mitten?

COMIC SONG.

Words and Music by WARD SPRAGUE.

1. Do you rec-ol-lect the mit-ten? At the singing-school one night, When the full moon shone so brightly,
2. With your hand up-on her shoulder, And your lips close to her ear, You then whispered ver-y soft-ly,

As to hide the stars from sight: And the boys their girls were choosing, They would see them safe-ly home;
May I see you home, my dear? But the oth-er fel-lows heard it, And they caught her answer too,

CHORUS.

It was for this ver-y pur-pose, That each pret-ty girl had come. O the mit-ten! O the mit-ten!
Ah! your heart was in a flut-ter, For she quickly mittened you.

How it makes a fel-low feel, When he hears Ma-til-da an-swer, "No Sir, thank you, Mister Neal."

3.
Oh! it made you blush all over,
And you felt so very queer,
For you knew that you had lost her,
Sweetest, lovely Tilda dear;
You said, "my dear, you've broke my heart,
O you charming little elf!
You will not come that again, Sis,"
Not if "Samuel knows himself"—Cho.

4.
Though the days of youth are over,
You remember still that night,
It was hard to work your courage
Up to such a wondrous height;
And I'm certain that it gives you
Just a little twinge of pain,
When you recollect the mitten
From your sweet Matilda Jane.—Cho.
