"OUR FLAG"

R. McCallum.

1

Oh, Flag of our Fathers--Oh, Emblem sublime!
Unsullied, unconquered, she waves o'er the sea;
And Nations salute her and bow at her shrine,
Our noble Old Glory--the Flag of the Free!
May her Stripes e'er shineas the rays of the sun;
Her Stars gleam as bright as the stars that's above her,
May the tyrant and coward despair at the sight --
And all Nations of earth learn to love her!

CHORUS.

Then Hail to our Flag! The Flag of our Nation!
Old Glory--the Red, White, and Blue;
And long may she wave o'er the Land of the Free!
The boast of the loyal and true.

2

Oh glorious Old Flag--fling its folds to the breeze!
Let ut float so grand o'er the land and the sea;
Bright Emblem of Liberty, Freedom, and Peace,
See, fettered Hands, they are uplifted to thee!
Then all hail to thy Stars! may they shine ever bright,
Thy Stripes may they ever prove steadfast and true;
Dear old Flag of our Land, thou art noblest and best--
Then three cheers for the Red, White, and Blue!
