"Back To Berlin" A.H.Hollenbeck.

1

Oh,Germany--you boastful Nation--you have failed,on ev'ry score;
Your forty years of preparation failed to land you on our shore;
Your great kultur is all humbug,your ability all bunk;
Your great schemes of world conquest they have vanished as if they were pun

2

You startedout to dine in Paris after you had made the date;
But so often you have changedit,someone must have smashed the slate;
You have tarriedby the wayside,back and forward,to and fro;
You havehad the whole world guessing,as to where you'd fin'lly go!

3

But we Yanks are wise as serpents,boasting it's not in our line;
Mum's the word,but actions glorious, we are to fight--not shine;
Keep the tracks clear back to Berlin,you may need to make a run;
Or our Yank athletes may get you,in their frolic with the Hun!

4

Oh,you poor ,deluded Kaiser!how'd you get so badly fooled?
You really though you were a Nation fit to rule a world of fools;
Now,you find a few green Yankees,trained for months instead of years;
Put you on the road to Berlin,with all your training and your jeers!

5

France,Great Britain,Yanks,Italians,each in turn give them a kick;
Put them on the road to Berlin;get them started sure and quick!
Let them step to the sweet music of a Yankee machine gun;
Keep them jumping,always jumping,the vile,murd'rous,beastly Hun!

CHORUS.

Back to Berlin,Back to Berlin!
Since the U.S.A. got in the fray,it's Back to Berlin!
