WHY NOT SMILE.

Josephine M. Lewis. M. DuFrorke.

There may be sorrowand grief to- day, Trouble and death may come our way; But there's always sunshine after the rain.

After a loss always something to gain. (CHORUS) So why not smile, Why always be sad? We'll find it worth while To smile and be glad.

Sunshine and happiness we will find,
If the little trouble and knocks we do not mind;
If in our little troubles fun we can see,
The world will laugh with us and happy we'll be.

(3)

So with Uncle Sam thru the war we will smile,
As our last year's clothes each day we don;
For our Liberty Bonds are stacked in a pile,
And the fight for Freedom and Victory is on.
