DE BURNIN' LAKE.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1879, by Chauncey B. Sabin, in the office of the Librarian of Congress at Washington.

I.

Oh! dey say dar's a burnin' Lake,
                                  Oo! oo! oo!
Whar de sinners roll and bake,
                                  Ah! ah! ah!
An' twist roun' wid a great big worm,
                                  Oo! oo! oo!
An' dar's no end to dey're howl and squirm,
                                  Ah! ah! ah!
While de lake it blaze and burn away.
                                  Oo! oo! oo!
An' it's always night and nebber day,
                                  Ah! ah! ah!

II.

But dar is a worl' way up higher,
                                  Hi! he! he!
Which is clean above de worm an' fire,
                                  Hi! he! he!
Whar de Saints dey shout an' sing,
                                  Ho! ho! ho!
An' whirl an' dance de Pigeon Wing,
                                  Re! ki! ko!
An' dat is de worl' which just suits me,
                                  Ri! ti! ti!
I'm gwine up dar, if I climb a tree,
                                  He! hi! hi!

III.

Oh! I'm goin to de worl' on high,
                                  Ki! ki! ki!
                                  Ki! ki! ki!
An' meet de Angels in de sky,
                                  Ki! ki! ki!
                                  Ki! ki! ki!
I'll shoot away from de worm an' Lake,
                                  Ke! ke! ke!
                                  Ke! ke! ke!
An' leave de sinners to roll and bake,
                                  Oo! oo! oo!
                                  Oo! oo! oo!
While I de hebbeny music sing,
                                  Yah! yah! yah!
                                  Yah! yah! yah!
An' strike de harp wid de golden string,
                                  Yah! yah! yah!
                                  Yah! yah! yah!

IV.

Then we'll shout, Glory Halleluyah!
Then we'll shout, Glory Halleluyah!
Then we'll shout, Glory Halleluyah!
Then we'll shout, Glory Halleluyah!
