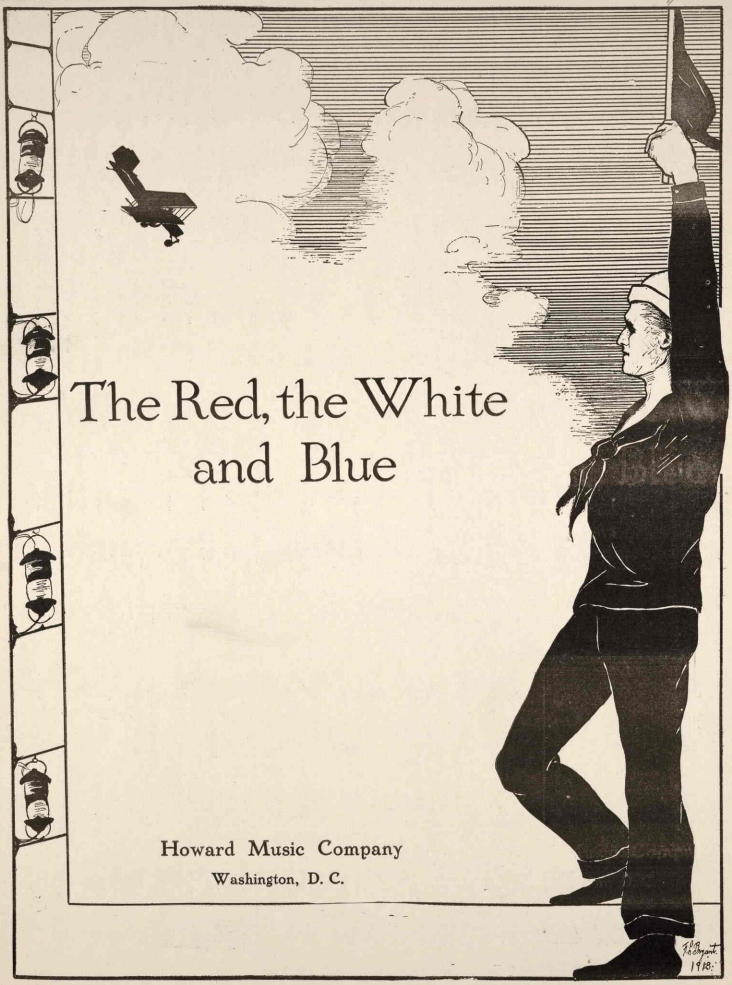
©CIE452692
JUN 19 1919

LYRIC BY WILLIAM E. GILBERT

MUSIC BY ROY HARTZELL



H1646
.H

The Red, the White and Blue

WILLIAM E. GILBERT

ROY HARTZELL

Tempo di Marcia

ff

A

1. My son, you are break - ing the home ties, For a cause that is
2. The bu - gles have called and been an - - swered, By young lads
3. So fare - well, my son, for the pre - - sent The en - e - my

mf

no - ble and true. The coun - try is call - ing for just such as you. The' lov - ing the home and its the day will rue. When he bold - ly de - fied the all her sons To fight for the Red, White and Blue.

com - forts, They will fight for the Red, White and Blue.
whole wide world, In - - clud - ing the Red, White and Blue.

Al - - tho' we can - not go with you, Our Man - y miles will lie be - - tween us, With So when you re - turn, my he - ro Our

Copyright, 1918, by William E. Gilbert thoughts will fol-low you thro! The bat-tles and tri-als you'll you in a land strange and new. But my he ro, we know you'll re-coun-try will wel-come you. With out-stretched arms and a proud-ly fight For the dear good old Red, White and Blue.

mem-ber to Fight hard for our Red, White and Blue.
thank-ful heart For you've fought for the Red, White and Blue.

CHORUS

So go with a will, my he-ro! For God will watch o-ver you. We've de-fend-ed be-fore, And will de-fend again The Red, the White and Blue! So Blue!

463144