MAY -5 1917

©CLE402982

Do We Remember Dewey?

Words and Music by

JAMES HOWARD CALISCH.

Copyright 1917 by James H. Calisch.

M1646
.C

MAY -5 1917

Do We Remember Dewey?

Words and Music by — JAMES HOWARD CALISCH

March Tempo.

Once more we hear the bu-gle- call; Once more the country needs our brawn: We join the war of na-tions that man's bro-ther-hood may dawn. The past has set us the ex-am-ple To hold our own and fight; And when we see the bull-ets fly-ing We'll take our hard-ships light!

CHORUS.

Do we re-mem-ber Farr-ag-ut, Sher-man and Paul Re-vere, Per-ry and Scott and Tayl-or? All men who knew no fear!

Do we re-mem-ber Sher-id-an, And Grant, and Put-nam too? And say, do we re-mem-ber De-wey? Do we, Do we, Guess we do!

Copyright 1917 by James H. Calisch.

"The Crest" (those Genuine without Watermark.) W. WITMARK & SONS, Selling Agts, New York & Chicago.

No. 3—34 lines.

405500