A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS by the firſt articles of the terms and conditions declared by the Preſident of the United States on the ſeventeenth day of October, 1791, for regulating the Materials and manner of buildings and improvements on the lots in the city of Waſhington, it is provided that "the outer and party walls of all houſes in the ſaid city ſhall be built of brick or ſtone," and by the third article of the ſame terms and conditions it is declared, "that the wall of no houſe ſhall be higher than 40 feet to the roof, in any part of the city, nor ſhall any be lower than 35 feet on any of the Avenues:

AND WHEREAS the above recited articles were found to impede the ſettlement in the city of mechanics and others whoſe circumſtances did not admit of erecting houſes authoriſed by the ſaid regulations, for which cauſe the operation of the ſaid articles, has been ſuſpended by ſeveral acts of the Preſident of the United States from the fifth day of June 1796, to the firſt day of January 1804, and the beneficial effects ariſing from ſuch ſuſpenſions having been experienced—it is deemed proper to revive the ſame, with the exception hereafter mentioned.

CAUTION.

WHEREAS in the month of September laſt, money was obtained from two gentlemen of my acquaintance in the ſtates of New Jerſey and Delaware, by a perſon who aſſumed the name of James Nicholſon, and called himſelf my brother, I have tho't proper to ſtate, with a view of explaining any other impoſitions of a ſimilar nature which have may been practiſed, & to prevent ſuch as may be attempted hereafter, that for the laſt four years, my brother James Nicholſon has been but little in the United States, and that he ſailed from Philadelphia in the month of April laſt for Canton, where it is preſumed he now is. One of the letters in which application for money was made, is in my poſſeſſion, and is a palpable forgery—Printers in the middle States may poſſibly render a ſervice by inſerting this advertiſement in their papers.
