In our last paper we ftated the ratification of the amendment to the Conftitution by the legiflature of the ftate of Tenneffee. The vote was unanimous, and as the Governor has no negative upon the acts of the legiflature, is conclufive. This conftitutes one of the ftrongeft proofs of the energetic prevalence of republican principles in the weftern country, which have yet been exhibited. It is fcarcely unknown to our readers that the opponents of the amendment exhaufted their laft, perhaps their greateft efforts, to fruftrate its adoption in this ftate.—Building their hopes on a momentary alienation of fome refpectable characters arifing from the ill fuccefs of local meafures, they promifed themfelves with availing themfelves of a tranfient fentiment of diffatisfaction, limited to a particular object, to obtain the rejection of a great republican meafure, founded upon principle. We have uniformly been of opinion that this hope would be abortive. Confidering the character of Tenneffee as inflexibly republican, and feeing in her paft conduct an uninterrupted feries of pledges for its continuance, we were convinced that fhe would have too much magnanimity to fuffer a great principle to be facrificed to local confiderations, however important. We rejoice that we have not been difappointed.

The amendment is now a part of the Conftitution; and will not fail to fruftrate any machinations meditated againft the peace or liberties of the country.

IMPORTANT COMMUNICATION.

We are authorifed by the collector of the cuftoms to ftate, that he has received a letter from the hon. Robert Smith, fecretary of the navy, notifying him that the Prefident of the United States has deemed it expedient to fend to the coaft of South Carolina, and Georgia, gun-boat No. 1. under the command of lieut. commandant John Powell. That another gun-boat will in a few days be fent to our coaft, and that arrangements have been made for building a gun-boat at Charlefton and another for Savannah.

The protection which will be thus given, as well to the revenue, as to all veffels whatever, whether neutral or American, againft the aggreffions of the armed veffels of any nation whatever, within the territorial jurifdiction of the United States, cannot fail to be highly gratifying and fatisfactory.

Pirates, whether found within or beyond our jurifdictional limits, will be taken and brought into port. Other laws of the United States can & will be effectually executed.

(Charlefton pap.)

On Saturday the governor of this commonwealth infpected the ordnance of the regiment of Philadelphia militia artillery, which by his orders had been lately put into complete order and repair. A detachment from each company was ordered out on the occafion.—The guns, &c. were placed in a ftraight line fronting the arfenal. On the approach of the governor a twelve pounder was difcharged, and the regimental flag was hoifted. After having paffed the line, in review, thirteen guns were fired off from right to left, which was performed with fpirit and punctuality. After the firing, the infpection took place, and we have the fatisfaction to fay that the governor on feeing the ordnance and corps in complete order, expreffed his entire fatisfaction. On his return from the arfenal another twelve pounder was difcharged and the flag lowered.

Thus this old regiment which has exifted fince the revolutionary war, and on various occafions rendered effential fervices, is once more placed, in a refpectable ftate and condition—every company being now fupplied with a good field piece.

We underftand that the governor has lately purchafed fifteen additional brafs field pieces which are to be diftributed among the different artillery companies throughout this commonwealth. What a contraft between the fpirited exertions of our executive, and the legiflature of the ftate of Delaware, who by a late act have nearly abolifhed the militia fyftem of that ftate. Aurora.

Mr. Wilberforce's bill againft the flave trade, which paffed in the Houfe of Commons, after much debate, by a majority of 79 againft 20, limits the continuance of the trade to January 1, 1805.

Meffrs. Wharton and Seaman who came paffengers in the fhip Protector from Cette, inform us that on their voyage from Leghorn to Marfeilles, on the 23d of May, off Toulon; they paffed the Englifh and French fleets engaged in action; but that, night coming on, they were prevented from knowing the refult.

Captain Morrell, arrived at Philadelphia from Point-Petre, informs, that the Governor general of Gaudaloupe had juft fent difpatches to the Government of the United States, requiring an explicit declaration, whether or not it was with their approbation, that our citizens carried on a trade with the negroes of Hifpaniola, & whether they were authorifed to arm their veffels in defence of faid trade.

PARIS, June 6.

The report that Carnot intends, with the confent of the Emperor, to go and fettle in America, is ungrounded. He is oftener than ever at St. Cloud, and he is deftined to occupy a place of great importance. [Le Publiciste.]

It appears that the Council of State of the Italian Republic have conferred a new title on Bonaparte. They have ordered that the 15th of Auguft fhall be celebrated as the day of Saint Napoleon.

The proceffion of Corpus Christi took place on the 3d of May, in the churches of Paris, with all the fuitable pomp and accuftomed ceremonies. The churches were filled with people, led thither by their piety or their curiofity; and it muft be acknowledged (fays the European editor) that independently of the celebration of that myftery, there is in the manner of conducting it, fomething equally auguft and impofing, which delights the eye, fubdues the imagination, and even makes the Proteftant exclaim, "I feel myfelf a catholic on this feftival."

NOTICE.
