PROPOSALS

FOR PUBLISHING A

Geographical Description

OF ALL THE

STATES & TERRITORIES

IN THE UNION,

In ſeparate volumes; with a particular and correct deſcription of the ſeveral counties and towns, in each ſtate. Illuſtrated with Maps,

By JOSEPH SCOTT,
Author of the United States' Gazetteer, the Modern Geographical Dictionary in 4 vol. oct. a Geographical Dictionary of the United States of North America, &c. &c.

THE geographical deſcription of each of the larger ſtates, with the counties, towns, &c. will form a neat little volume of about 150 pages. Two of the ſmaller ſtates may form a volume, or one of them may be comprized in the ſame volume with a larger adjoining ſtate, as Maryland and Delaware.

Each volume will be complete in itſelf; ſo that ſubſcribers may take one, two, &c. or the whole number. The paper, type, and ſize of the page, will exactly correſpond with the deſcription of Pennſylvania, now publiſhed; ſo that ſubſcribers for the whole may have two or more bound together to ſuit their own taſte.

They will be publiſhed neatly done up in in boards.

The deſcription of each ſtate will be embelliſhed with a handſome map.

It is ſuppoſed that the whole will amount to about FOURTEEN LITTLE VOLUMES. A general deſcription of the United States will be given in the laſt, which will render the whole the fulleſt, and moſt correct geographical deſcription of the United States, that has hitherto been publiſhed.

The plan, which the author has adopted, is the moſt comprehenſive that could be ſuggeſted, as it will compriſe under proper, and diſtinct heads, every thing worthy of notice.

No money will be required till on the delivery of the work.

The Price of each Volume will be Fifty Cents.

The next volume will contain,
A Geographical description of MARYLAND and DELAWARE, illustrated with a Map of each state.

The work is nearly ready for the preſs, and will ſoon be publiſhed.

☞ The Editors of newspapers, in Maryland, are requeſted to inſert the above propoſals twice. They will be paid on the publication of the work.

JUST PUBLISHED.

AND FOR SALE,
At Mr. Morford's and Bailey and Wallace's Book ſtores, Broad-ſtreet, and at the Courier Office,

PRICE, 18 1-2 CENTS;

A pamphlet on the importance of cultivating the BOURBON COTTON, by the Agricultural Society of the Bahama Iſlands.

The very great importance of this pamphlet to the Planters of this ſtate, and every other cotton country, has induced its publication. It conſiſts of copious extracts of letters from Cotton Planters of the different iſlands; and the amount of their general evidence is that the Bourbon Cotton is decidedly preferable to the Anguilla or Georgia Cotton; that it is of quick growth and produces earlier than the common cotton; that it yields about 150 lb. of clear cotton to the acre; but the greateſt advantage is, that it is ſecure from the ravage of the caterpillar, which ſo often blaſts the hopes of our planters.

This ſubject is deſerving the attention of our planters, and this pamphlet is recommended to their examination as the probable means of increaſing the value of their crops.

CHASE'S TRIAL.

This day is Published
By SAMUEL H. SMITH.

TRIAL
SAMUEL CHASE,
AN ASSOCIATE JUSTICE of the Supreme Court o the United States,

IMPEACHED
By the Houſe of Repreſentatives, for HIGH CRIMES AND MISDEMEANORS, before the Senate o the United States.

Taken in short hand,
By SAMUEL H. SMITH & THOMAS LLOYD.

In Two large Octavo Volumes—in Boards, price—to ſubſcribers four dollars and a half—and to non-ſubſcribers five dollars.

A much greater delay has been incurred in the publication of this trial than the Editor contemplated. He has, however, the ſatiſfaction of ſaying that no effort has been omitted by him to give it to the public at an earlier period. The delay has ariſen from the reviſion of the ſpeeches of the Managers and Counſel. The publication might long ſince have been made in a leſs perfect dreſs; but it was deemed highly deſirable that in a caſe which, independently of its own importance might be a precedent in future times, to ſacrifice time rather than preciſion. The work now appears before the public, with the expectation of the Editor that it will be conſidered as meriting the character of an impartial, comprehenſive and faithful ſtatement of facts. All the ſpeeches have been reviſed, and inſerted at length, in connection with whatever elſe formed a part of the trial.

Editors of other prints will confer a benefit by inſerting this advertiſement a few times in their papers.

PYRROLOIMOGIA,

Or; Inquiries into the

PESTILENCE CALLED THE YELLOW FEVER.

CONTAINING the hiſtory of its ſymptoms and prevalence in different parts of the world; a comparative ſtatement of all controverſies reſpecting its origin, modes of propagation and treatment; with an attempt towards a new theory of the electrical phenomena and galvanic influence ariſing from terraqueous & putrid exhalations, which explains the cauſes of peſtilential diſeaſes, their remedies and preventatives.

By FELIX PASCALIS, M. D.
Of New York,

Formerly Phyſician and Member of the Board of Health in the ſtate of Pennſylvania, Honorary Member of the Medical Societies of Philadelphia, and of Connecticut; and Aſſociate to other American and European Literary inſtitutions.

The author has been a medical practitioner in Philadelphia during ſeven epidemical recurrences of the Yellow Peſtilence. To enlarge the ſphere of his experimental obſervations on that intereſting ſubject, he has lately travelled in the ſouth of Spain, and alſo viſited South Carolina, where that diſeaſe has by many, been ſuppoſed to be endemic. With ſo many motives to truſt to his opinions, the author wiſhes notwithſtanding, to be honored with the ſupport of the learned in the U. States, who have had ſo many more opportunities than thoſe of Europe to exerciſe their judgment on a ſubject highly important to the wellfare of this country—a country with which many European nations frequently interdict the intercourſe of their ſubjects as if it were abſolutely the abode of peſtilence. Whatever claims the author may imagine he derives from his experience, he will, however, thankfully receive any documents contrary to the theory he propoſes. He, therefore, reſpectfully ſolicits communications tending either to eſtabliſh or to invalidate the truth of an Electrical and Galvanic influence, &c. as a cauſe of peſtilential diſeaſes. Such intereſting papers on theſe ſubjects as he ſhall be favored with previouſly to the firſt of November next (poſt paid) will be gratefully acknowledged and duly noticed, unleſs otherwiſe requeſted.
