Dear Mr. Moftah,

I am now at the above address, & it will be necessary to book my return passage to Egypt (October) without delay, — as I find that the best & least expensive boats are rapidly being filled.

There are no summer fares in October, so it comes to more than it did coming here. But I think I can manage if you will kindly send £40: & any balance (over or under) I will make right when I see you in Cairo.

How much do I hope that this will find you stronger than when I left Egypt, & that you will send me the good news that your health is progressing favourably.

Yours v. truly,

Scott Nicholson Smith
