Synopsis of Scenery, Incidents and Music.

ACT 1.

Scene 1.—Palace Gardens of Count di Luna.

- Guards that keep watch and time.
- No. 1.—Recitative, Solo and Sextette: "Here at Our Post," Ferrando and Guards.
- No. 2.—Song and Chorus: "The Late Count had a Brace of Sons," Ferrando and Guards.
- No. 3.—Hunting Song, Ferrando and Chorus. A love-sick maiden and a waiting maid tired of waiting.
- No. 4.—Solo: "Gaily the Troubadour," Leonora.
- No. 5.—Duet: "Oh, my Heart with Love is Beating," Leonora and Inez. An unaccountable Count, who may be counted of no account, and possessing none.
- No. 6.—Solo: "A Baa Lamb," Count di Luna.
- No. 7.—Song: "The Count's Lament," Count di Luna. The Count in a love affair discounted.
- No. 8.—Solo: "Naught Upon Earth," Manrico.
- No. 9.—Comic Duet: "If You Love Me," Manrico and Count. A truly bad Count mistaken for a Tru(e)bad(o)eur. A cat-astrophe and a
- No. 10.—Cat-chy Duet: "Miau, Miau," Leonora and Count. An irate Troubadour—a mistake explained—a reconciliation.
- No. 11.—Concerted Piece: "Wretch, I'll Run You Through the Middle," Manrico, Leonora, Inez and Count.

Scene 2.—Ruined Castle by the Sea. Gypsy Encampment.

- No. 12.—"The Anvil Chorus," by the Company.
- No. 13.—Scena: "Stride La Vampa," Azucena.
- No. 14.—Solo: "Di Luna is My Foe," Azucena. Azucena, having gone through her usual cussing with unusual cussedness, proceeds with the ordinary business of going over the day's misappropriations.
- No. 15.—Comic Medley: "Who Kissed the Place to Make it Well—your Mother," Azucena.
- No. 16.—Waltz: "Il Primavera," Manrico. A letter—not letter A—but one of direful note.
- No. 17.—Grand Finale: "Soldier's Chorus," Manrico, Azucena and Ensemble.

ACT 2.

Scene 1.—A Ladies' Finishing Academy.

- No. 18.—Chorus of School Girls: "We Always Try to be Quite Good."
- No. 19.—Song and Chorus: "It's Nice to be Somebody's Love," Leonora and School Girls. The Count comes to school—so does Manrico. The Troubadour knocks his rival flat upon the floor. The Count's portmanteau—not a caricature. Desperate onslaught by the Count upon Manrico. School girls and umbrellas to the rescue.
- No. 20.—Concerted Piece: "Beware My Hate," Count, Manrico, Leonora, etc.
- No. 21.—Solo: "The Whip-poor-will's Song," Manrico. A wicked Count's revenge. In a dungeon fetter her. Agony! Rage! Revenge! Despair! etc., etc.
- No. 22.—Concerted Piece: "Vivra Contende," Manrico, Count, Leonora, etc.

Scene 2.—The Camp. Di Luna's Tent.

- Drunken Dance, Mr. Madin.
- No. 23.—Comic Song: "Ain't It Peculiar," Azucena. A gypsy fortune-teller punished for telling too much truth.
- No. 24.—Solo and Chorus: "Tramp O'er Moss and Fell," Manrico and Ensemble.

Scene 3.—A Dirty, Damp, and Dingy Dungeon.

- No. 25.—Solo: "Ah Che La Morte," Manrico.
- No. 26.—Concerted Piece: "Come, Prepare," Count, Manrico, Azucena, etc. A lost brother found, a son discovered, and lover's re-united. Tableau by the company. Grand Finale.

TO SPORTSMEN.

For duck shooting Sonoma Marsh has not its equal in California.

All lovers of DUCK, SNIFE and GOOSE HUNTING cannot fail to be satisfied to their hearts content on this Marsh. DONAHUE LANDING on the Petaluma side, and NORFOLK on the Sonoma side, are the two rendezvous. Surrounding Norfolk, which is the present southern terminus of the SONOMA VALLEY RAILROAD, game is more plentiful than it has been for years. Owing to the previous want of facilities for transportation this splendid hunting ground has not hitherto received the attention it so richly merits, but as an excellent daily service, via the Sonoma Valley Railroad, is now permanently established, and good accommodations provided, we feel convinced of it soon becoming one of the favorite hunting grounds of the State. STEAMER SONOMA leaves Washington St. Wharf daily (Sunday excepted) at 2 P. M., returning leaves Norfolk at 7.30 A. M. STEAMER JAS. M. DONAHUE leaves Washington Street daily at 3 P. M., arrives at Donahue 5 P. M., returning leaves Donahue at 8 A. M., arrives at San Francisco 10 A. M.

A Grand Wednesday Matinee, Jan. 28th, will be given at the California Theatre, by the Colville Opera Burlesque Company, when Ill Treated Il Trovatore will be given.

A Grand Wilhelmj Matinee Concert will be given on Thursday, Jan. 29th, at the usual matinee theatrical prices, 75, 50 and 25 cents.

One of the events of the next ten days will be the benefit that is to be given to J. T. Maguire, the Treasurer of this theatre, Thursday evening, Jan. 29th, on which occasion will be produced a new and elegant Opera by the Colville Burlesque Company, cast with its full strength and promising to be the most exquisite as well as the most popular of any of the productions that has emanated from this really remarkably talented company. The bill in itself ought to draw an overflowing house, and taken with the fact of a benefit given to one who deserves so well our recognition of services rendered, a large audience is assured. Mr. J. T. Maguire for years has been connected with the theatres of this city, and there are few of our theatre goers but have been the recipients of his courtesy and attention. Let the "Old Drury" of San Francisco on next Thursday night be filled with his friends and may the results financially be indeed a benefit.

The tooth performance by the Colville Opera Burlesque Company will take place on Saturday evening, Jan. 31st, which will be the last appearance of the company here; the occasion will be celebrated as a gala night. Ladies supplied with satin bills and Miss Emf ROSEAU will be the recipient of a testimonial benefit from the manager.

Byron once said of a lady whose tongue suggested perpetual motion to every visitor, that she had been dangerously ill, but was now dangerously well again.

Among other indications of a revival of business comes surprise parties. It was expected that this horrid method of extorting hospitality was extinct.

One way to tell whether a hornet is alive or not is to try to push him across a table with your thumb. If he's alive, you'll know it.

"We must agitate!" exclaimed an earnest political speaker; "we must agitate, or we will perish!" And then he agitated it gently with a spoon, and pretty soon it perished, all but the sugar.

A young man sent twenty-five cents to a New York firm for the purpose of learning how to get along without a blotter, and received this reply: "Write with a lead pencil."

In the bright lexicon of youth, or old age, there is no such word as fall if you use Damiana Bitters.

AS PRETTY AS A PICTURE. The stall of Robert F. Banker, of CURR SANBORN fame, 74 and 76 California Market; who, besides a full line of his delicious specialty, has a display of Dupepe Hams, Bacon and Lard unsurpassed in the city.

In the room of a railroad depot in Iowa is the following placard over the clock behind the counter: "This is a clock; it is running; it is Chicago time; it is right; it is set every day at 12 o'clock; now keep your mouth shut."

We take pleasure in stating that Mr. Frank J. Losky, late manager of the Baldwin Billiard Rooms, has reopened the Billiard Parlors at No. 8 Eddy St., having renovated the rooms throughout, furnished the bar with good Liquors and Cigars, and had the billiard tables re-adjusted by the celebrated manufacturer, P. Liesenfeld. Frank's messenger boy, in uniform, is always on hand for the convenience of patrons, free.

As a tonic and nerve Damiana Bitters has no equal.

"Fruit jars," he said, as he looked at a sign; and then continued, "Yes, it does, unless it is real ripe."

A certain young lady, who was a little behindhand in her fall out-fit, surprised her parents, the other day, by asking why she was unlike George Washington. When they gave it up she told them—because she had no little hat yet.

Good news for the ladies. TAX UNION Day Goods Store, 105 Fifth Street, is closing out very cheap on account of removal to their new and elegant quarters, 27 and 29 Fifth St., under METROPOLITAN TEMPLE, on or about Feb. 1st. Those who would save money we advise to go there at once and lay in their supplies.

It was a new idea that of an Iowa man who got up a Bible with one page of holy writ alternating with a page advertisement of business houses, but somehow it didn't sell. The proverbs don't mix well with stomach bitters.

How many of us are afflicted with pain and disease which might be eradicated by the use of Damiana Bitters, the remedy known among Mexicans time out of mind, as a cure for diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder.

Young man, don't waste your energies in attempting to wear too delicate a shade of clothes; the girls don't care for them. Their own finery occupies their attention.

 A harmless and effective beautifier is considered an indispensable accessory to the toilet table of every lady of refinement. But many of these compounds are unskillfully prepared and generally prove injurious to delicate complexions. It is due to our lady readers to make the statement that "Dicker's Famous Cream de Lux" is the most perfect and harmless preparation yet produced.
