Popo the puppet
The most remarkable puppet
Can laugh & cry
And wink his eye
Or flap his arms around & fly so high
Popo the puppet
When supper's ready he can sup it
Do any trick
That you can pick
And in addition do arithmetic
He can juggle a prune
Blow a balloon
Tickle a tune on the piano
He can fly a kite
In spite of his height
And sing ~~both~~ in bass and soprano
Popo the puppet
That most remarkable puppet
Could swing on swing
Spring on spring
Never bumped when he jumped thru a ring
Yes Popo ~~the puppet~~ could do anything
And he did it - how ?
Where ?
why ?
when ?
When somebody else pulled the string oh!

If there's a moon
There's bound to be moonlight
~~If there's a lovable girl~~
~~There's bound to be love~~
If there's a goose on the loose
Just watch that gander
Meander over
~~And where there's a hat + a cane~~
~~look for the glove~~
If there's a star
There's bound to be wishing
And I would wish for the one I could love
To come to me soon
When there's a heart lonely as mine
~~There must be~~ some other heart must be waiting too
And soon there's bound to be a moon
And love in view

If there's a cloud in the sky
There's bound to be rain

When there's a
~~If you hear~~ - whistle stop + look for the train

Take a highland lad
And a highland lass
A-strollin' thru the Heather
With a broth of a moon
In the month of June
And a touch of Scottish weather - brr
