Dear Danny:

You may recall having a pot of tea at his home in New Delhi with Dr. Chandra Mani - the WHO Regional Director for South East Asia - when you were out here last June. Dr. and Mrs. Mani are now packing their bags for a trip in your direction to attend meetings of the World Health Assembly in New Mexico.

They are scheduled to arrive Los Angeles on May 7 morning by flight WAL 403 and have a 24 hour stopover. If you are available they would indeed be glad to see you. If this be possible would you be good enough to leave a message for them with the airlines as to where they might contact you.

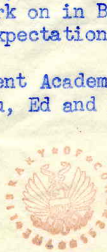
Alternately a message to the Canterbury Hotel, San Francisco would find them on the 2 previous days, May 5th and 6th.

If you are looking for an assignment as Public Health Engineer in Asia or if you would like a year in the tropics as an Entomologist complete with butter-fly net - here is an opportunity!

We have not yet seen "ASSIGNMENT CHILDREN" though there are prospects of a private pre-censorship showing this weekend. Premieres for the English version are slated for May in major Indian cities whilst the Hindustani script is currently being work on in Bombay. Needless to say these releases are awaited with great expectations.

My congratulations to you upon your recent Academy award in connection with this film and my best wishes to you, Ed and Sammy.

Sincerely yours,



T.G. Davies.
