©CLE416277
DEC 28 1917

Every Girlie Loves A Soldier

by Chas. Bayha

Intro.

Voice

Boys if you're looking for a sweet-heart Any lit-tle girl in town — Just tell your trou-bles to your Un-cle Sam Go get a u-ni-form of brown — Just look a-round and see — It's plain as it can be: —

Cho.s

Ev-ry girl-ie loves a Sol-dier, a hand-some sol-dier boy — She knows that he knows-just how to hold his own, He proves it to her ev-ry time that they are all a-lone; —

Ev-ry girl-ie loves a Sol-dier, a hand-some sol-dier boy — She knows that he knows-just what his arms are for, The arms he puts a-round her and the arms he takes to war; —

There is something 'bout a sol-dier, That fills her heart with joy — He has faced the pow-der and he does-n't fear it, If there's some a-round he wants to be right near — it, If you've got half an eye — It's at the mouth of a-ny beau — ty, It's not hard to ex-plain, Why from cuch to see Why — Ev-ry girl loves a sol-dier Fris-co to Maine — Ev-ry girl loves a sol-dier boy —

There is something 'bout a sol-dier That fills her heart with joy — At the can-non's mouth he al-ways does his du-ty, And he'll do it

Copyright 1917 by Jos. W. Stern & Co New York

M1646
.B

422674