by Bruno Mithot.

Voice

1. Our Boys have gone across the Sea - "Hurrah!" for the "U. S.
2. Oh! Don't you hear the Bugle's call - Awake! "To Arms" - it

Piano

A"! Their hearts afland with loyalty - three cheers for the "U. S. rings - Where'er you see the "Stars and Stripes" - Good cheer it surely

A"! With sturdy strength and courage bold - How they will fight with rings - Although we do not want to fight - we have to for were all be told - But this we know both great and small - Our Flag will waverfully in the right - And three great Nations are held tight - By the Bond of Liberty!

Chorus.

Somewhere in the "U. S. A." There are brave boys who have gone away - To fight in the front of the Army - Somewhere in the "U. S. A." There are Sailor Lads who are there to stay close to the Guns of the Navy - Some where in the "U. S. A." There are glad hearts who are proud to day. And will weep no more for the lads in foreign shores - For the "Stars and the Stripes" will win

f. f

Freedom.
