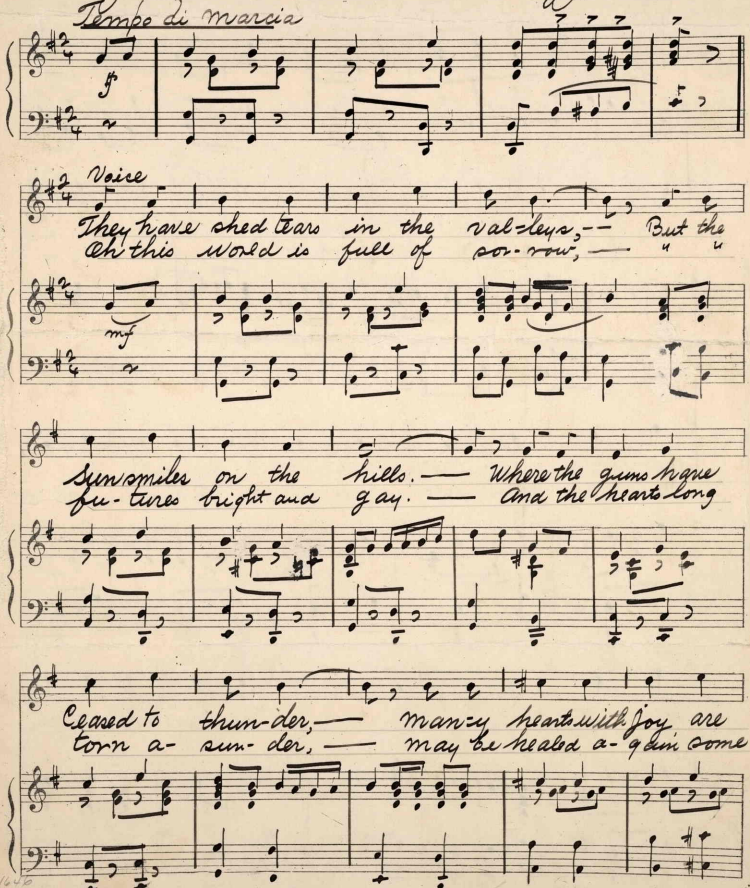
©LE445139
MAR 17 1919

"My Hats Off For The Heros."

Words by R. C. Hanley. Music by J. B. Kewcomb.



Copyrighted 1919 by R. C. Hanley,

Newport N. H.
32 Court St.

filled. — Though they lost so man-y loved ones,
day. — and the man-y gal-lant he-roes, —

They're the ones that won the day. — And we've That we all have laid a- way. — We will learned to love them bet-ter — since they drove the meet a- gain up yon-der — when we pass a-

Chorus:

Huns a- way. — —
long that way. —

They have driven the

Runs a- way — yes they've driv-en them off to stay. — For their man-y dep-re-da-tions — They will surely have to pay. —

— Ah my heart is filled with sadness — Which I hope will turn to gladness, — For my hats off for the He-roes, — That I know have passed a-way. — They have way. —

454189