AUG 16 1918
©CLE429539

There's A Cross on the Arm Of the Girl I Love

WORDS AND MUSIC BY

COLETTA POWER

Published by
LIVINGSTONE PUBLISHING CO.
Warrington Theatre Bldg. Oak Park, Ill.

M1646
.P

There's A Cross On The Arm Of The Girl I Love

A TRIBUTE

COLETTA POWER

Marcia

f mf

I'm dream-ing of my sweet-heart Sweet as a rose kiss'd with
May-be your sweet-heart's pret-ty With eyes of wonder-ful

mf

L. H.

dew I'd give the world to win her Just to make my dreams come hue Some-times per-haps she's wit-ty All the choice is up to true For I'm mighty proud of my girl My hat's off when I say you But my eyes with joy are beaming The rea-son's plain to see

L. H.

She sets my fond heart all a-whirl Though she is far a-way.
My Joan of Arc I'm dream-ing You're just as brave as she.

Mechanical Rights Reserved

Copyright MCMXVIII by Coletta P. Livingstone
International Copyright Secured

Ask for the Record

CHORUS with expression

She's the girl with the smile who makes life worth while, For our he-roes both night and day. No rings on her fing-ers, but some-how there ling-ers, Some-thing just like sun-shine when she pass-es their way. She's the Girl of the day, Mil-lions hon-or her and say, "God bless you for your care to - day." She re-minds us of our moth-ers, and she'd make the whole world brothers, There's a cross on the arm of the girl I love. She's the love.

cresc.

rit.

437017