

four sons and four daughters. Two years later, or more accurately, on October 8, 1691, he married, in the city of New York, Francijntje Andries, the widow of Abraham Lubbertszen. Surviving his second wife, he continued to reside at Hurley until his death, in May, 1715. On March 30, 1714, thirteen months before his decease, he made his last will and testament in the language of his forefathers. His bequests to his heirs, he specialized as follows:

"Fourth. I give to my eldest son Thomas, his order or heirs, £25 current money of New York, for his right as first born, and he shall not claim anything more on that account.

"Fifth. I give to my said son Thomas and to my son Barnardus my entire real and immovable estate, belonging to me in the county of Ulster, to them, their order or heirs, to be equally divided between them, on condition that they together turn over and pay to my other heirs, named below, the sum of £325, current money of New York, within two years after my death, provided, however, that if my said sons are not able to pay the before-named sum within the said time of two years, then they shall have four years time in which to pay it, giving five per centum interest to my other heirs.

"Sixth. I give to my daughter Hendrickje, wife of Hubert Lambertszen, or to her order or heirs, the sum of £65, to be paid to her as above said.

"Seventh. I give to the children of my son Anthony, their order or heirs, the sum of £65, current money of New York, to be paid them by my two sons as prescribed above.

"Eighth. I give to the children of my daughter Cornelia, deceased, the sum of £65, current money of New York, to be equally divided among them, and to be paid as aforesaid.

"Ninth I give to my daughter, Ragel [Rachel], wife of Jacob Kip, the sum of £65, current money of New York, to be paid her as above.

"Tenth. I give to my daughter Eva, wife of Jacob Dingman, her order or heirs, the sum of £65, current money of New York, to be paid to her as described above.

"Eleventh. It is my will and wish that my entire personal estate or movable goods shall be equally divided among all my aforesaid heirs.

"Twelfth. All my clothing for my body is given to my sons Thomas and Barnardus, to be equally divided between them."<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Book of deeds, B.B., in the office of the clerk of Ulster County, N. Y., at Kingston, pp. 414-416. The will was proved, May 14, 1715. Vide: Translation of the Dutch text of the will, in the Appendix, Document No. 6.