Verse

A Yankee soldier On furlough Went into Paris —

for the show — A Chateau Thierry fighter brave and bold —

On his right arm he wore a stripe of gold Broad-way and her ma-ny lights Leicester Square and all her sights Left his memory

When he met Marie — In the cap-i-tal —

Chorus

Pa-ris for me — I want to promenade the

Champs Elysees with sweet Marie — To some cafe —

We'll go to sing and dance the whole night away, 'tout d' suite' I say

Now that Boche and Kai-ser are de-feated —

And the war can ne-ver be re-peat-ed — Pa-ris for me —

Don't you com-pree? Pa-ris for me and Ma-rie —
