©CLE431847
SEP 28 1918

Uncle Sam every man will see you through

Words and Music
by
JOHN C. SPRAY

M1646
.S

John C. Spray & Co. Publishers - 105 W. Monroe St., Chicago.

Uncle Sam, Every Man Will See You Through

Words and Music by JOHN C. SPRAY

Marcia

Uncle Sam has got his sleeves rolled up He's knee deep in the war — He is strik-ing with two
Our sol-diers on the west - ern front Are smash-ing through the foe. — With the grit and dog-ged

mil - lion men He's train-ing mil-lions more — And a host of Jack-ies wait our ships That game-ness That our fight-ers al - ways show — They will con-quer in the con-flict They will soon will crowd the sea — Your Un-cle Sam's just start-ed in this fight for Lib-er-ty.

set the whole world free — Uncle Sam has on - ly start-ed in this war for Lib-er-ty.

CHORUS

But he's got to have more money now To play the game to win — And bil-lions in the

Copyright 1918 by John C. Spray

International Copyright Secured

next loan he must see _____ It takes dollars to buy guns And the shells that kill the Huns ___ Must be paid for with the coin from you and me _____ Loan-ing Un-cle Sam our mon-ey while the boys fight o-ver there ___ Is the least that we at home can sure-ly do _____ So we'll ral-ly to his call Till the Teu-ton ty-rants fall. Un-cle

1 2

Sam, ev-'ry man will see you through _____ But he's through _____

H. S. TALBOT CO.
Music Printers
Chicago.

TRY THIS ON YOUR PIANO

"SOMEWHERE"

Words by JOHN C. SPRAY.

Music by
J. STAFFORD SUMNER.

CHORUS.

First 'twas "Some - where in Ill - i - nois," Then "Some - where in New York State," Or "Some - where down in Tex - as," Or West to the Gold - en Gate. It was "Some - where, al-ways Some - where," That our sol - diers went to win, But we know the fin - al

FOR SALE BY ALL MUSIC DEALERS

4405.0