"Some Where In France, My Boy."

(Patriotic, March Song and Chorus.)

Words & Music. by J. Clarence Stevens. Urbana Ohio. U.S.A.

Intro.

Voice. Moderato.

A croud of Young fell-ows talk-ing, — they were talk-ing a-bout the war, — a-bout the Nat-ions and their Flags, and what they are fight-ing for, — one Young lad said Boys, I will go with you an-y where, — I'm real glad you Boys, we're need-ed — let's en-list now en-list to-day. — The Young lad then wav'ed old "Glo-ry," — and then to him ev-ry man did say. —

The lad said let's stand to-gath-er, — then al-leg-iance each one did swear, — he said it is our du-ty Boys! are go-ing — we can help fight, and Right the Wrong. — a ser-vice we owe our Count-ry, — and ev-ry fell-ow then sang this Song. —

Chorus. Tempo Di Marci.

"Some Where In France, My Boy, I will meet you. — I know my Boy what's right, I'll help to win the fight, I Love Red, White and Blue. — For Worlds De-mo-ra-cy. — I heare hu-man-i-ty, cry-ing help me — to the front I will go — with you, fight the foe of "Free-dom and Lib-er-ty."
