OCT -3 1918
©CLE431604

THE STAR OF BLUE
HAS CHANGED TO STAR OF GOLD.

WORDS AND MUSIC BY PAULINE B. STORY

5

PUBLISHED BY
STORY'S MUSIC HOUSE.
111 East 176th Street, N. Y. City.

M1646
.S

The Star Of Blue Has Changed To Star Of Gold.

Words and Music by
PAULINE B. STORY.

Andante moderato.

Piano.

mp rall.

With - in a cot - tage win - dow theres a flag with star of blue Moth - er's
At ev - en - time, when praise is sung 'midst muf - fled sob and sigh, Fond - est

mf

boy has heard the Na - tion's call - re - solves to dare and do. With hearts are like the void that comes when strains of mu - sic die. But sa - cred home - ties rent a - part, he sails with no - ble heart; Just for in the glow - ing af - ter - while, will come a glad - some smile When is lov - ing faith - ful du - ty he en - rolled. On the blood - dyed bat - tle - fields, For the heard in full the sto - ry yet un - told. 'Twas to save hu - man - i - ty, And to rall. accel.

Copyright MCMXVIII by Pauline B. Story.

rall.

Cause his young life yields, And the Star of Blue has changed to Star of Gold.
make all na - tion's free That has changed the Star of Blue to Star of Gold.

rall.

Refrain.

There's a light gleam-ing bright thro' the win-dow to night And it's shin - ing be-hind a gol - den s'ar. Ah! the tale it will un - fold, last - ing on thro' a - ges old, Of val - iant deeds, he - ro - ic brave and bold in lands a - far; And 'twill tell how he fell 'midst the rall. a tempo.

mp

p rall. p

slower

rain of shot and shell Battling on 'gainst the foe, the line to hold; How, with bay - o - net and lance, he carved his ad lib. rall - - en - tan - do ad lib.

name some-where in France That's why the Star of Blue has changed to Star of Gold.

f rall.

441005