WHEN THE "YANKS" COME SAILING HOME.

By Milton Britton.

Peace has come and the day is won
For the Allies one and all,
We've spelled defeat for the Kaiser's crown
The soldier boys are homward bound.
Now there's a Rum Tum Tum on the drum drum drum
And the tramp tramp tramp of feet,
Of boys who fought for democracy
The boys who were taught to love liberty.

CHORUS.

The yankee boys will soon be home,
They've done their work across the foam,
We're here to celebrate their victory,
We'll put it down in history,
The battle it is won
For every mother's son
There'll be another Independence Day
When the Yanks come sailing home.
