"Liberty Bells" Mrs. N. S. Monroe. 10

1

The people all had gathered from near and far away;
For they had heard the message that came at break of day;
And soon the joyous tidings went all around the world;
So great was the rejoicing, that it cannot be told

2

The world was all rejoicing, it was a joyful day;
The Flags they were all floating, they marched with banners gay;
The bands beat and their playing; with military air;
And bells were all a-ringing, in steeples far and near.

3

The cruel war was over, do not forget the day;
When they brought you the message, that right had gained the day;
Remember it was Monday, twas the eleventh day,
Let all the ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ wide world keep it, a world wide holiday.

CHORUS.

Ring the bells of Liberty! Ring! Ring! Ring!
Glory! hallelujah! let us sing; sing; sing!
For Right has won, the war is done, good news is on the wing;
So, ring the bells of Liberty! Ring! Ring! Ring!
