"LOYALTY" By Mary Lewis Davis.

1

We will be true, America--our chosen land, so dear;
Where honest labor brings reward of comfort and good cheer;
Our hearts are here, our homes are here; our God is with us, too;
We pledge allegiance to the Flag--the Red, the White, and Blue!

2

This is our childhood's native land; within their hands we place
The future honor of the Flag; to keep it from disgrace;
And when our country needs their help, with loyal hearts and true;
May they defend that Starry Flag --the Red, the White, and Blue.

3

We'll rally 'round this dear old Flag that stands for liberty;
Help usher in her glorious reign, on land as well as sea;
If in the fray we sink, or fall to those dear colors true;
That Flag shall be our winding sheet--the Red, the White, and Blue!

CHORUS.

Then we'll rally to defend our dear Columbia;
Ev'ry man to our country's colors true!
Be this the Flag for us and ours forevermore--
The Red, the White, and Blue.
