"Mother's Baby Son" Sarah A. Baldwin.

1

Good bye, mother good bye, dear!
To fight I'm going—full of cheer;
Before I go, with you I'll kneel;
Together pray to God for me;
To help me win the victory,
For Freedom and for Liberty.

2

God bye, Mother, I must leave;
The timeless come for me to go;
So, cheer up, mother and be brave;
While I am far across the wave;
So stop your crying—worrying, too—
I be back in some months to you!

3

Good bye, mother, good bye, dear!
To France I'm going, full of cheer;
My English cousins I shall meet;
My Cousins there in France I'll greet.
And side by side to our last breath
We'll fight xxxxx the Hun till crushed to death!

4

To France your baby son will go;
With French and English strike the blow,
To fight the foe, and conquer Hate,
Your son will pay his father's debts.
Whate'er befall tis Honor calls,
Farewell, dear mother, best of all.

CHORUS.

Good bye, Mother; good bye, dear;
Do not worry! do not fear! (venir--
I'll bring you the Kaiser as a sou
Good bye, mother! good bye, dear!
