"The Mother's Prayer" Chas.E.Digney.

1

It was only a sorrowing mother's prayer,
From a heart that was burdened by woe;
And the one for whose sake she had borne pain and ache,
He had gone to help battle the foe;
Oh keep my boy,dear God" she prayed," and bring him back to me!
I'll try be brave,I'm not afraidin You 's Eternity!

CHORUS.

Thou knowest my heart is sad to night,and many a tear I've shed,
Yet still my soul will bravely fight,not say that hope is dead;
For the Cause is just and the will is strong,and weknow that the One above
Will bring them back the the way is long--the ones we so fondly love.

2

It was only a wondering soldier lad
As the darkness of night slowly fell;
For a voice seemed to come then from out of the gloom,
Twas a sweet voice that he knew so well;
"Oh,keep my boy,Dear God" he heard" the words so low and clear,
For the lord above,by mother's love,had brought the dear words there.
