©CLE417632
MAR -9 1918

The Soldier Lad in Khaki Clad of Nineteen Seventeen

Song

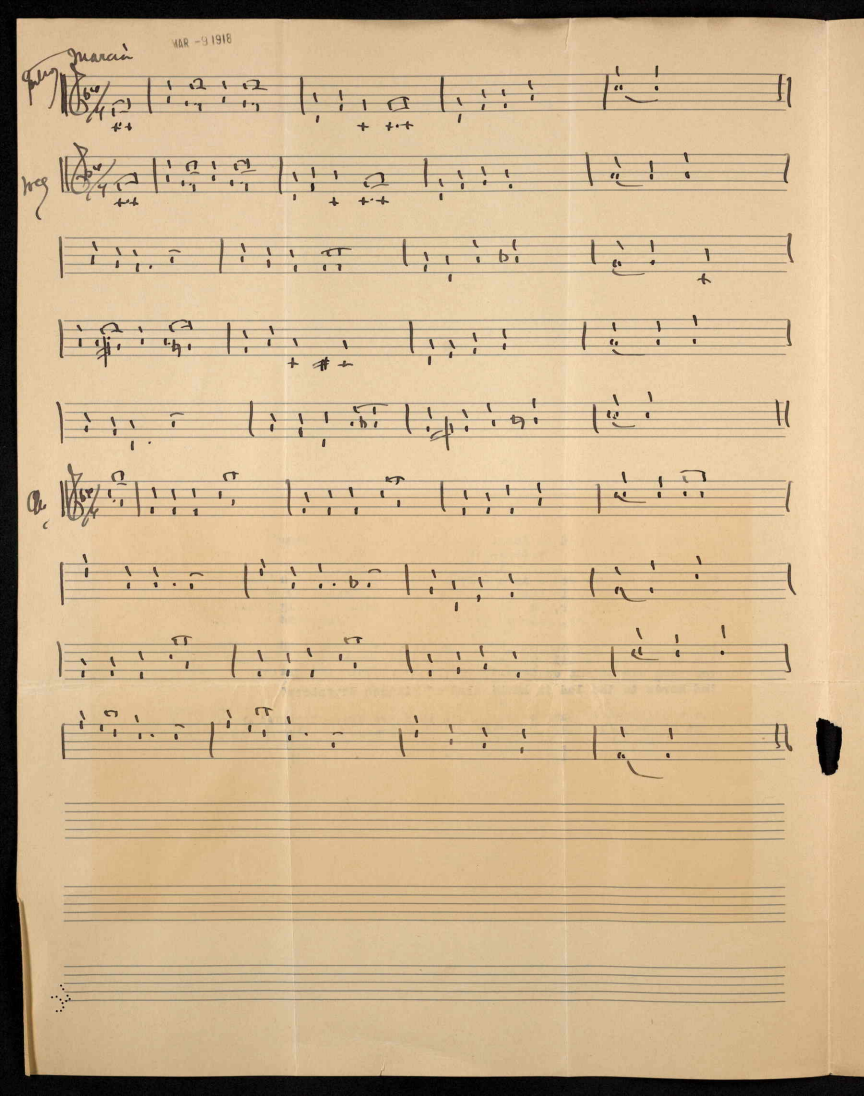
Poem & Copyright By Chas. N. Young - Corvallis - Oregon

Music by

R. A. Browne,
790 Dawson St.,
New York City

M1666
.B

MAR -9 1918



"The Soldier Lad In Khaki Clad Of Nineteen Seventeen"

By Chas. N. Young.

1

We have taken our stand in a foreign land in the cause of Liberty!
The Tyrant's yoke--it shall be broke--that a People may be free;
On earth, sea, and air, we will still bravely dare and fight til Vict'ry's won
We'll not turn back, while on the track, of the Kaiser and the Hun.

CHORUS.

For we'll show the Hun, yes, before we're done we are good old Yankee stuff;
And we'll fight until Old Kaiser Bill will say he's had enough;
The same old spirit of Seventy Six, is ever fresh and green;
And here's to the lad in Khaki clad of Nineteen Seventeen!

2

The traditions we say, of the U. S. A they are known throughout the world;
That RIGHT--not MIGHT--has been our theme, where our Flag has been unfurled;
Tho it casts a pall, we are heeding th'call; of crushed humanity;
And Uncle Sam will lend a hand, that Europe may be free!

427491