"Three Cheers For Our Sammy !" By Emily W. Bowman.

Our boys have crossed the briny foam;
They're far away from friends and home;
Theyfight on foreign soil to day;
While,for their safety loved ones pray;
The fight was on,they heard the call;
They answered to it,one and all;
They left with many a shout and cheer;
They left' mid many a parting tear.

CHORUS.

Three cheers for our Sammies!our brave soldier boys!
We honor,we praise them,hats off to them now!
Theirw livesthey have offered,that men shall be free;
Without them,I wonder wherever we'd be.

2

Our soldiers fight for lasting peace;
They fight to day that war shall cease;
They fight for justice done to all;
They fight that tyranny shall fall;
Long may Great Freedom's Banner wave!
Above the land they've gone to save;
To save it from a haughty foe;
That's filled the entire world with woe.
