"When The Yankees Called The Kaiser On The Fifth Of June"
By M. A. Kelly.

1

In the early days of "Seventeen" of course, we all have heard,
The cry of "Peace at any price" was almost ev'ry word;
Till Kaiser Bill to please his will would rule the sea and land;
And all the people ev'rywhere--now, would n't that be grand?
He tried to fool the Yankees--for his game we'd never stand;
When the Sammies called the Kaiser, why, he held a four flush hand.

CHORUS.

Yes, Bill he held the four flush until the fifth of June;
Twas then the Sammies called him--all the roses were in bloom;
Twas then the boys all told him they would make him change his tune;
When the Yankees called the Kaiser it was on the fifth of June.

2

Since the days of "Seventeen" the Eagle he's our only bird
The Dove of "Peace at any price" is never never heard;
And Kaiser Bill the fighting still will not rule sea or land,
Or all the people ev'rywhere for him they will not stand;
Our boys will give a drumfire just to start his Germanband
In honor of the kaiser who held but a four flush hand.
