"Where's My Daddy?" By Percy C. Newcomb.

Twas in a little lonely home.like many in this land;
A little blue eyed child one day,among her toys did stand;
But all her thoughts were far away,a war map she had spread;
And as she traced the many lines,she to hers elf then said:

CHORUS.

Where's my Daddy?Where's my daddy?Wher's my Daddy to night?
Bring him back from out the trench; bring him back from midst the French--
Where is my Daddy to night?

2

When he returns I'll hug and kiss,and love him,all the more;
As stories she will tell me of the children of the war;
How Uncle Sammy's great brave boys drove back the cruel Hun;
Oh I'll be glad to see him,so I hope that he's soon done.
