"Yankee Doodle Up To Date" Wm. H. Cunningham.

1.

Oh, Gen'ral Howe, at Bunker Hill, the British thought him handy;
But Washington showed greater skill--and so they called him "Dandy".

2

Our trouble was with England's king--also its Par-li-amen-te--
And now its with the German Lords and German propaganda.

3

But Yankee Doodle'll reach Berlin; "Surrender" is demanded;
Our boys will get the German lords--we're Yankee Doodle Dandies.

4

Our soldiers dress in khaki suits--all brave and look quite dandy-
In trench and on the firing line--all with their guns so handy;
Some people, not with bad intent, have called our boys "the Sammies"
Our soldiers, fighting now, in France, the French they call'em "Yankees"

5

The day's gone by when drinking hums can foil your Uncle Sammy;
Our Armys made of sober men, and not men soaked with brandy;

7

Our Uncle Sam will not talk Dutch, nor will he drink Dutch brandy;
So, Yankee Doodle, Doodle do--oh, Yankee Doodle Dandy!

CHORUS.

Yankee Doodle-up to date--Yankee Doodle Dandy!
He's the boy to clean the slate--is Yankee Doodle Dandy!
