Dedicated to Base Hark Tue Number 22. By Richard Davey Milwaukee, Wis.

Rej

Oh starry flag now bravely borne. A far across the sea The stars of heaven the my native land my hearts true home. Oh this thy hour of need Hear while I pledge be-For thee I'll sail the stunniest sea Or gladly toil on shore So I may prove my winds of Morn. Are meeting greeting thee Bright emblem of good will to men. Of fore thy shrine My life my word my deed, Ale I possess thou gavest me to love for thee I'll delve or serve or soar + Then stars of glory still shine on while Uni on free and strong Thy pow'r is as the pow'r of ten To fight and wright the gui rous thy great heart. My all were little in return But let me do my men re joice in light Till all the nations learn at last That right alone makes wrong Thy pow'r is as the pow'r of ten To fight and right the wrong. part My all were little in return But let me do my part might till all the nations to learn at last that right alone makes might.
