LIBERTY'S EMBLEMS.

C. P. Ackerlund. M. DuFrerre.

Our flag, the Stars and Stripes, will never stay furled, When by the great, powerful op-pressors An insult craven at our freedom is hurled, We will always punish the trans-gressors. We'll pur-sue them all thru frost, rain and thaw; We'll clasp them in the mighty eagle's claw; Liberty's emblems we will rend and tear, As a lioness a dear in her lair. (CHORUS) Let Liberty's emblems float ov-er Loved homes that with freedom u-nite; Let there be no tyrant slave drov-er Within sight of the eagle's flight. Clear and glowing by freedom brightened, Let Liberty hold up her light; May Justice by Mercy en-lightened With true honor guide us a - right.

When our loved country in her sovereign might
Bids us to the front at the trumpet's call,
As free men we will fight for justice and right,
Anywhere on this terrestrial ball.
Whether we sail across the briney, blue deep,
Or on the far desert sands we may sleep;
Where it leads we follow the Red, White and Blue,
Columbia's sons will ever prove true.

We will uphold Liberty's banner ever on high,
Whether dwelling on land or on ocean;
While with the great Eagle's unfaltering eye,
We guard Liberty's cradle with devotion.
We will carve our motto and keep it from rust,
To solve all our problems, "In God We Trust";
While floating on high with the breeze to the sky
Liberty's emblems - Stars and Stripes ever fly.
