THE*YANKS.

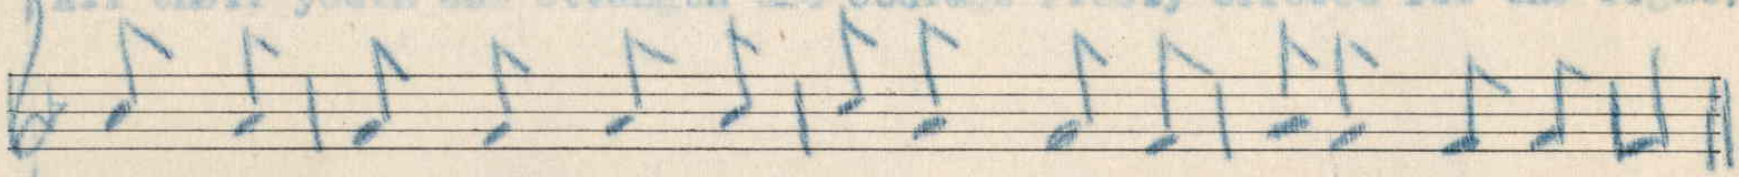
Christina Dandridge Van Horn. M. DuFrerre.

Don't it make your work seem lighter, And your heart forget its care,

When you read their cheerful letters From the camps and "over there"?

All their youth and strength and courage Freely offered for the right;



That's the stuff that made for victory When our soldiers went to fight.

(2)

We have proved so all can see it,
Tho we knew it well before;
When our boys start out to do it,
They will get the goods for sure.
They've had their trip and done their bit
With never a grouch or frown;
And we'll give them a cheer and grip of the hand,
When they hit the old home town.
