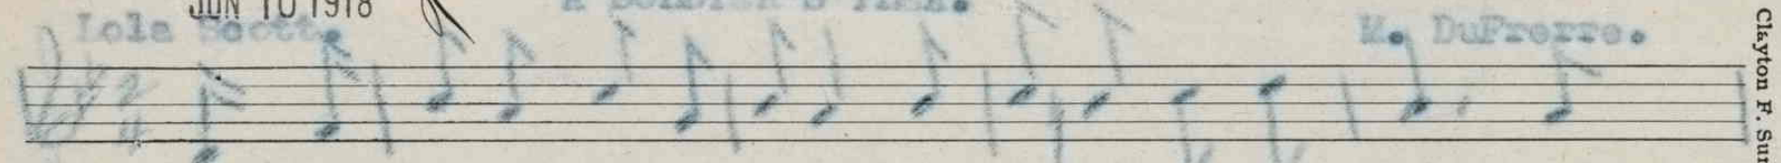
A SOLDIER'S IDEA.

Lola Scott. M. DuFrerre.



When this cruel war is ov-er, To you I will re - turn; For when I get "Over There" My heart for you will yearn. So please write me some letters, Just as fast as you can write; And send me some books and pictures, Just to make my camp life bright.

With you back in the old home town,
The town will be just as gay;
But please don't forget your soldier,
Who is fighting so far away.
And when you see a mother,
Grieving for her soldier boy,
Tell her of the great things he is doing,
This boy of her pride and joy.

(3)

No matter who is this mother,
Or what fate befalls her son,
Tell her comfortingly of the Father,
Who gave His only One.
And at night when you kneel by your bedside,
And pray to be made free from sin,
Remember your lonesome soldier,
And put in a prayer for him.
