Words of Our Glorious Nation

1 How glorious our nation wide,
Spread out from sea to sea,
From river-bank and mountain side
Ring out the melody.
Her glades and hills, her rocks and rills,
Her lakes and rivers deep
From Tampa's sunny coast to where
The northern waters sleep.

2 Her lofty peaks and valleys deep
Are rich in golden ore;
Her waving fields and pastures green
Yield up abundant store.
Her sturdy yeomen, true of heart,
Shall grow both strong and brave
Till we shall find no refuge for
The tyrant or the slave.

3 The battle for the rights of men,
Though fierce and long the fray,
Must wage until the right shall win
And usher in the day
When every nation, great and small,
Shall be from tyrants free,
And we shall gladly heed the call
To higher liberty.

4 How happy shall that people be
Whose God shall be the Lord;
Thrice blessed in our deed are we
When guided by his word.
May temp'rance, truth and equity
Prevail o'er land and sea,
And may our flag forever be
The emblem of the free.
