Mary, b. in Sutton, Sept. 23, 1802; d. in Illinois, Sept. 20, 1868. She m. Jan. 8, 1827, Dr. Jesse Haven Foster, b. June 20, 1801, in Hanover, son of Jonathan and Mary (Greeley) Foster. Shubel Greeley, of Salisbury, was father of Mary (Greeley) Foster. Dr. Foster commenced the study of medicine with Dr. Benjamin Lovering, in Sutton, in 1820. In the years 1821 to 1824 he studied with Dr. Lyman of Warner; graduated at Burlington, Vt., in December, 1824; began the practice of medicine in Washington, Vt., June, 1825, and there remained till 1837, when he removed to Lake county, Ill., where he practised many years, being the first physician in the county. In all, his medical practice extended over a period of fifty years. On retiring he returned East to spend the remaining years of his life. He now resides with his daughter in Auburndale, Mass.

By the practice of his profession, and by the rise in value of land in and near Chicago, purchased before the city was built, Dr. Foster became quite wealthy, and being of an amiable, friendly disposition and an excellent physical constitution, with every faculty of body and mind unimpaired, though now in his 80th year, seems to have as complete enjoyment of life as if he were half a century younger. He reads without the help of glasses, eats and sleeps well, drives out in his carriage, and goes unattended in railroad and other cars, studies the daily papers, and keeps well acquainted with current public events, tells a good story, and laughs at other people's jokes as heartily as ever he did.
