Somebody's Boy.

WORDS & MUSIC
by
GEO. J. LEAVY.

Voice

In a drear-y dun-geon Lone-ly and sad, Lay a cap-tive sold-ier Far off in his home-stead wait-ing in vain, Just to see their boy a-lad. He was brok-en heart-ed, From his friends de-part-ed, gain, Lov-ing hearts are yearn-ing For the home re-turn-ing, all a-lone Far from home while his thoughts are roam-ing o'er the sea,
Of their one lone-ly son, While the days are swift-ly glid-ing by,

Chorus

Lov-ing friends keep wailing-patient-ly.
There is one to whom the end seems nigh. Some-bo-dy's girl is sigh — ing Some-bo-dy's boy feels — blue —, Some-bo-dys moth-er is try — ing Just to be brave and — true. Some-bo-dy's dad is pray — ing For his on — ly pride and joy. — There's a heart in ev-'ry home That keeps drift-ing o'er the foam, To some-bo-dy's lone-ly boy.
