Item, I give and bequeathe unto my and my wife's beloved niece Lucy Winthrop,* who has lived with us ever since her infancy and as soon as she was capable of it, and so all along unto this day, always behaving to us with the same affection, duty, prudence, faithfulness and dilligence as if she had been truly a daughter and offspring of our bowels, I say I give to her the sum of three hundred and fifty pounds lawful money. Item, I give unto her a

* This Lucy Winthrop was the daughter of Adam Winthrop, who graduated at Harvard College in 1694, married Anne Wainwright, daughter of Col. John Wainwright, and died Oct. 2, 1743. Adam Winthrop's son Samuel was Executor of the Will of Col. Wm. Dudley's widow Elizabeth in 1751. This Samuel Winthrop and his brother John of Cambridge are mentioned in Paul's Will. They were brothers to Lucy, to whom Paul gives £300. This John Winthrop, son of Adam, was Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy in Harvard College, a very learned man.
