

WEBBER FAMILY.

Jans being on her bed in state of sickness but perfectly sensible and in full possession of her mental powers and capable to testate, to which sound state of mind we can fully testify. The said Anneke Jans, considering the shortness of life, the certainty of death, and the uncertainty of the hour or time, she, the said Anneke Jans, declared after due consideration, without any persuasion, compulsion, or retraction, this present document in manner following: First of all recommending her immortal soul to the Almighty GOD, her Creator and Redeemer, and consigning her body to Christian burial, and herewith revoking and cancelling all prior testamentary disposition of any kind whatsoever, and now proceeding anew, she declared to nominate and institute as her sole and universal heirs her children, viz.: Santa Roelfsen, wife of Hans Kiersted; Catrina Roelfsen, wife of Johannis Van Brough, also Janetje and Rachel Hartgers, the children of her deceased Daughter Fytje Roelfsen during her lifetime, the wife of Peter Hartgers, representing together their mother's plan; also her son Jan Roelfsen, and finally William, Cornelious, John and Peter Bogardus, and to them bequeathed all of her real estate, chattels, credits, jewels, money, gold and silver (coined and uncoined), clothes, linen, woolen, household furniture, and all property whatsoever, without reserve or restriction of any kind, to be disposed of after her decease, and divided by them in equal shares, to do with the same at their own will and pleasure without any hinderance whatsoever, provided, nevertheless, with this express condition and restriction that her first four born children shall