William Q. Ker married Eliza McCall Simpson, whose parents were of the old Simpson family of Greenwich Village, New York City, and who were among the leading associates of the old " Bear Market " (Washington Market.) There were few persons living in New York City who were not familiar with Mr. William Simpson and mother.

Their children were:

- Mary Ann Ker, married Robert Ellison.
Melissa Ker,
Victor D. Ker, " first wife, Jennie Schofield.
Children:

- Hamilton Ker, Viola Ker.
Second wife Frances Hartley.

James and Jean McCall Ker were very earnest workers in the Macdougall Street Baptist Church and were for forty-five years connected with the Summit Avenue Baptist Church at Jersey City Heights.

Mrs. Jean McCall Ker won the second prize at the first American Institute Fair held in New York City at the old Castle Garden, for a patchwork pineapple quilt. She made her last pineapple quilt at the age of 86 years, and it is still cherished by her relatives.
