Dr. HORACE GREEN,⁷ (Zeeb,⁶ Israel,⁵ William,⁴ William,³ William,² Thomas,¹) brother of the preceding; b. in Chittenden, Rutland Co., Vt., Dec. 24, 1802; m. 1, Oct. 20, 1829, MARY SIGOURNEY BUTLER, dau. of James Davie Butler of Rutland, Vt. She d. Aug. 17, 1833. 2, Oct. 27, 1841, HARRIET SHELTON DOUGLAS, dau. of I. H. Douglas of Waterford, N. Y.

He studied medicine in Rutland, Vt., and in that place commenced practice as a physician in 1824. After five years' practice in Vermont, he went to Philadelphia, attended two full courses of lectures, and grad. at the Univ. of Penn. Returning to Rutland, he practised five years more as a physician there; and in 1834, received the degree of M. D. from Midd. Coll. After this he removed to New York city; spent two years there in general practice; and then, going to Paris, availed himself of the opportunities afforded by the lectures and hospitals of that celebrated metropolis. After his return to this country, he was the first to bring before the medical profession, in a paper read to the New York Surgical Society, the method and value of topical medication for diseases of the air passages; a practice of which, we believe, there is now no dispute he was the originator. Since that time, he has acquired a high and extensive reputation, both as a physician and as a medical writer. His practice as a physician is supposed to be scarcely less extensive or lucrative than that of any other in the city. For many years he has been engaged as a lecturer. From 1840 to 1843, he occupied a professor's chair in the Medical College in Castleton, Vt. In 1846, he published a work on his favorite theme, the "Topical Medication of Diseases of the Air Passages." In 1849, he published a volume on the "Treatment of Croup by Topical Application;" and, in 1852, one "On the Polypti of the Larynx and Œdema of the Glottis." In 1850, he united with several distinguished medical gentlemen in founding the New York Medical College; in which he took the chair of the Theory and Practice; and was elected to the Presidency, both of the Faculty and of the Trustees. In 1854, he, with his colleagues in the college, started the American Medical Monthly; with the editorial conduct of which journal, he is still connected. His children have been—
