

His widow, with her youngest child, Isaac, came North early the following year and settled in New Brighton. At this time the other two children, Lois and Charles, were in Irvington, N. J., at a boarding school conducted by the Rev. John L. Chapman.

Eliza Okely married Thos. A. Barker about 1843, and settled in New Brighton.

Lavinia Okely married Milton Townsend and settled in the same place, but for some years resided in Pittsburgh.

SEVENTH GENERATION.

Elizabeth Wilson married W. S. Morlan, a lawyer, who was the son of Richard D. by a former marriage. Settled in New Brighton.

Alice A. Wilson, sister of Elizabeth, married at New Brighton Dr. H. M. Bishop, and went to live in Sharon, Pa., but later settled in Brooklyn, L. I.

Albert E. Morlan, born in New Brighton, was apprenticed to a jeweler, and after learning the trade went into that business in Belize, British Honduras. Later on he accepted the position of United States Consul at that port, serving under two administrations, one Democratic and the other Republican, resigning in 1898. Married in New Orleans, La. (See last page of Miscellaneous.)

Mary Morlan, sister of Albert E., widowed by the death of her first husband, John Burt (to whom she was married at New Brighton), went West and bought a small farm at Lamar, Mo. In 1883 she married Saml. C. Cotterill, and settled on a farm in Kenoma, Barton Co., Mo.

John M. Okely, Jr., was a Captain in the Civil War in